NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE State of Nevada, under the Act of Congress approved June 15, 1880 (21 Stat. 227), has filed in the United States Land Office at Carson City, Nevada, List No. 220 of lands discovered under said Act, and has applied for a patent for said lands, that a part of said list is open to the public for inspection, and a copy thereof, by descriptive sub-divisions, has been posted in a convenient place in said United States Land Office for the inspection of all persons interested and the public generally.

PORTO RICO

THE ISLAND IS AS BEAUTIFUL AS IT IS PRODUCTIVE.

It Has Thirteen Hundred Streams, a Wealth of Vegetation, Highly Cultivable Soil and Vast Deposits of Minerals—Few Reptiles, but Many Insects.

Mr. Frederick A. Ober, late commissioner in Porto Rico of the Columbian exposition, contributes to The Century an article on "The Island of Porto Rico." Mr. Ober says:

In the extreme northeast rises the highest peak of the central cordillera in the Luquillo sierra, known as "El Yunque," or "The Anvil," variously estimated at from 3,600 to 4,500 feet in height. The hills are of lesser elevation toward the west and southwest, but the whole north central country is rugged and uneven. Between the spurs from the main range lie innumerable secluded valleys, where the soil is of great fertility. The impressive features of the landscape are the rounded summits of the multitudinous hills, which leave the coast in constantly rising billows that finally break against the cordillera vortebra; yet all are cultivable, and cultivated to their very crests, though the higher mountain peaks are forest clad.

More than 1,300 streams, it is said, of which number perhaps 40 or 50 attain to the dignity of rivers, rise in the hills and seek the coasts, most of them running northerly, though the best harbors are in the west and south. But notwithstanding the great river flow portions of the island in the southwest are afflicted with drought at times, owing to the precipitation of the northeast "trades" against the northern hills.

The higher hills are clothed in the exuberant and diversified vegetation of the tropical forest, where tree ferns flourish, and great gum trees and mountain palms tower aloft. At lower levels are the cedar and mahogany, walnut and laurel, with many others noted for their useful woods. Throughout the island are found those trees and shrubs valuable for their gums, as the manne, guaiacum and copal, while the list of medicinal plants includes most of those, invaluable to our pharmacopias, which tropical America has given to the world. These are the silvestres, nature's wild children, but of cultivated plants there is no species peculiar to the tropics that does not flourish here.

In the littoral levels, between the mountains and the sea, grows the sugar cane, which may be cultivated up to an altitude of 3,000 feet. It was introduced here from Santo Domingo, having been brought to America either from Spain or the Canaries. The annual yield of sugar is estimated at about 70,000 tons.

In these fertile lowlands also tobacco does exceedingly well, and the annual production is said to be quite 7,000,000 pounds. It may be cultivated on the hills, but the true mountain lover is the coffee, which does not do well below 600 feet and is at its best 1,000 feet above the sea. It was first brought here from Martinique in 1722, and now yields to the extent of 17,000 tons annually. Maize, the true Indian corn, is indigenous, as is the yuca, the aboriginal "staff of life," and both grow everywhere, as well as the pineapple, which is more reliable and more universal than the peach of our north temperate zone. Cotton and rice are found at nearly all elevations, the latter, which is the chief food of many laborers, being what is known as the mountain variety.

Bananas and plantains are wonderfully prolific, bearing fruit in ten months from planting. The plants virtually last 60 years, being equally long lived with the cocoa palm, which produces nuts in six or seven years and thereafter during the space of an ordinary life, its yield being reckoned at 100 nuts a year. The annual product of bananas is given as 200,000,000 and of coconuts 8,000,000. The entire range of tropical fruits is represented here, such as the guava, lime, orange, agave, sapodilla and avocado pear, while all subtropical vegetables may be raised, including those of the south temperate zone, such, for instance, as are grown in Florida.

The mineral kingdom has not been so exhaustively exploited as the vegetable, but more than traces have been found of copper, coal and iron, as well as vast deposits of salt. The rivers at one time ran to the sea over beds of golden sand, and from the streams today (as in the neighboring island of Santo Domingo, where the first American gold was discovered) the natives wash out nuggets by the crude processes of that distant day when Aguey-naba went prospecting with his false friend, Ponce de Leon.

There are no native quadrupeds here larger than the armadillo and the armadillo, but birds are relatively numerous, and with a few of the domestic fowl do well here, and the great pastures of the northeast and southeast support vast herds of cattle and horses, which suffice not only for the needs of the island, but are exported to all parts of the West Indies, being held in high esteem.

There are no poisonous reptiles to be feared, but insects of questionable character are too numerous for comfort. This island indeed were a paradise without them; even with them the inhabitants seem to experience little trouble. The worst of these are the scorpions, centipedes, tarantulas, wasps, mosquitoes, some species of ants, ticks, chiggers and fleas. The heat of a tropical climate like that of Porto Rico, which, though rarely exceeding 90 degrees, is continuous, is conducive to the breeding of insect pests of all sorts.

"Dar isn't much comfort in de remarkable dat contentment is better dan riches," said Uncle Eben. "One is jes' about as habd to git as de other."—Washington Star.

A robust, manly son and a cooing baby girl nestling in her bosom—what more can any woman ask? It is a boon that Heaven intended should be granted to every woman.

Thousands fail of this because they have neglected to look after their health in a womanly way. The health of a woman's babies is dependent upon her own health during the period of prospective maternity. The prospective mother cannot be too particular about her physical condition. If she suffers from local weakness, nervousness or loss of vigor and virility, her children will be weak, puny and sickly. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only unfailing cure for all weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that bear the brunt of maternity. It makes these organs strong, healthy, vigorous, virile and elastic. It makes the prospective mother strong and cheerful. It robs maternity of its perils. It insures a baby constitutionally strong. It is the invention of an eminent and skillful specialist, who has had thirty years' training in this particular branch, during which time he and his staff of physicians have prescribed for many thousands of women. Medicines dealers sell it and an honest dealer will not urge upon you an inferior substitute merely for the little added profit he may make. "I am the mother of a nice baby four and a half months old," writes Mrs. J. B. Clough, (Box 203) of Lisbon, Grafton Co., N. H. "I cannot give too much praise to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good."

STRADDLING THE SILVER QUESTION.

The Delaware Democratic State Convention, which met at Dover this week, was dominated to a great extent by the goldbugs. Clevelandism was clearly in evidence, and seems to have controlled the platform makers. No reference is made to the financial plank of the Chicago platform, though allegiance is renewed to the cardinal principles of Democratic faith which have come down from Jefferson and Jackson.

Concerning the money question, which is the paramount issue, and which is the great dividing line between the gold and silver forces, the platform has this to say:

"The necessity for reforming our currency system is admitted on all sides and confessed by the President himself, who sent a monetary commission abroad to consult the foreign governments and asked for the appointment of another monetary commission to consider the question here at home, but notwithstanding the admitted evils of our present complicated, illogical and injurious currency system, the Republican Congress and administration have taken no positive and effective measures for reform."

That is as ambiguous a resolution as could well be written on the financial question. Every goldbug convention in the country could adopt it, because it is well known that the gold men in Congress have prepared a bill to reform the currency upon the lines laid down by the Indianapolis convention. Colonel Bryan, nor no other man, who favors the restoration of silver, whether he affiliates with the Democrats, Silver Republicans, Populists or Straightout Silver party, can endorse such a resolution or conscientiously support the party that adopts it. What is there in that declaration that indicates whether the Democrats of Delaware favor the gold standard or not? Absolutely nothing, which only proves what has been so often said, that it requires the prefix "silver" to a Democrat or a Republican to define his position on the great political issue of the day.

THE PROPOSED INVESTIGATION.

The President has named a commission to investigate the conduct of the war by the staff branches of the War Department. Army officers are opposed to having the investigation conducted by a civil commission which cannot be clothed with any judicial authority. The objection is not on account of any prejudice against civil authorities interfering in military matters, but is due to the fact that testimony before a commission not having power to compel it, would be voluntary, and would put officers in the attitude of gratuitously giving testimony which might be damaging to individuals or to the administration of the War Department.

Army officers say there would be no trouble in getting all the information there is concerning the campaign at Santiago, the management of the war through the department and the operations of the Medical, Quartermaster's and Commissary Departments, if a board were organized with authority to administer oaths and compel witnesses to testify, but officers will not jeopardize their own interests nor put themselves in the attitude of being voluntary informers, where the commission making the inquiry cannot compel witnesses to tell what they know. The officers will make it a point of honor as well as a matter of self-interest to decline to give testimony of any importance unless compelled to do so.

It is conceded by all that it will be impossible for a commission not having power to compel testimony to get at facts. This power cannot be given the commission except by Act of Congress, consequently the investigation will not reveal the rottenness of the staff branches of the army nor definitely fix the blame for the suffering from disease, starvation and neglect experienced by our troops not only at Santiago, but in the United States.

THE NEXT HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Careful estimates made by political experts at Washington show that the Republicans will not have a majority in the next House of Representatives. This means the dethronement of Czar Reed, who cannot play the role of Autocrat except when the Republicans are in power.

The present House of Representatives is composed of 202 Republicans, 130 Democrats, and 25 Fusionists and Populists, giving the Republicans a majority of 47 over the opposition. Those who forecast the political complexion of the next House estimate that it will consist of 187 Democrats, 129 Republicans, and 26 Fusionists, certain, with 35 doubtful. Should the Republicans elect in all the doubtful districts, the forecast figures that they will have 19 less than a majority.

It will be of interest to those who are to test the accuracy of estimates made by careful observers in Washington to preserve these figures and see how they compare with the actual results after the November election.

It's not what the player does in a baseball game but what the umpire says that counts.

A CARD FROM MR. LEETE.

Tramp Politics.

To the people of the State of Nevada, delegates in nominating conventions and candidates for the Senate and Assembly:—

This morning a letter appears in the DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL, recommending the election of Wm. M. Stewart to the Senate of the United States, addressed to Reinhold Sadler, Governor of Nevada, purporting to have been written by Stephen M. White of Los Angeles, California. Also previous letters of like character have appeared in the same and other papers in the State, purporting to have been written respectively by prominent citizens of Illinois, Colorado and Pennsylvania.

It is now asserted that the text of these letters was prepared in Carson City and given out for publication.

Assuming that those letters originated from the persons over whose signatures they appear, I submit that the whole scheme is an insult to the Statehood of the State of Nevada and to the intelligence and American manhood of every inhabitant of the State. It appears that Mr. Stewart is better known in other States than he is in this State.

The personnel of the Senate of the United States is based on Statehood representation, to consist of two members respectively, inhabitants of the individual States they represent.

If the insult goes unchallenged that the inhabitants of the State of Nevada do not possess the needed intelligence and patriotism to enable them to select a Senator of the United States in pursuance of the fundamental doctrines of the constitution of the United States from the bona fide inhabitants, then for a like reason should they select a State ticket from the inhabitants of other States, for example, a Governor from Rhode Island, Lieutenant Governor from Michigan, Justice of the Supreme Court from Maine, Secretary of State from Minnesota, State Treasurer from Virginia, State Controller from Oregon, Surveyor General from Illinois, Superintendent of Public Instruction from Alabama, Board of Regents of University of Nevada from South Carolina, five District Judges from Ohio, State Central Committee from Indiana.

To elect representatives, State and National, from the inhabitants of a State is a function of Statehood.

If the State of Nevada is incapable of selecting such representatives from her bona fide inhabitants, then that fact raises very seriously the question, is Nevada a State?

If you wish to know about me ask my neighbors.

Your obedient servant,
B. F. LEETE.

A Brave Briton.

When the attack was made on Sidon, during the war with Syria, it became necessary for the British troops to advance across a long, unprotected bridge, in the face of a battery of six guns, which completely commanded the approach. The men were unwilling to expose themselves to certain death, when Arthur Cumming, carefully dressed in full uniform, stepped forward to the middle of the bridge. It was immediately swept by the fire of the battery. When the smoke had rolled away, there stood Cumming intact, carefully brushing the dust from his boots, after which he stood erect, fixed a single glass in his eye and looked back at the men. This was too much, and they captured that bridge and battery with a whoop.

His Compliment.

A few weeks back a wedding breakfast was given by a substantial farmer blessed with five daughters, the eldest of whom was the bride. A neighbor, a young farmer, who was honored with an invitation, thinking no doubt that he ought to say something complimentary upon the event, addressed the bridegroom thus:

"Well, you have got the pink of the batch."

The faces of the four unmarried ones were a study.—London Fun.

The Sapper and the Sentry.

While stationed at Gibraltar I overheard, says a "regiment" story teller, the following colloquy between an infantryman doing sentry go and a sapper out with his sweetheart:

Sentry (who sees sapper coming)—Halt! Who goes there?
Sapper (trying to look big)—Engineer and his lady.
Sentry—Advance, sapper and servant girl. All's well.—London Globe.

Curiously worded.

Curiously worded advertisements, which are funny without intent, are common in the London papers, it would seem. One paper recently offered a prize for the best collection of such announcements, and the following is the result:

"Annual sale now on. Don't go elsewhere to be cheated—come in here."

"A lady wants to sell her piano, as she is going abroad in a strong iron frame."

"For sale—A pianoforte, the property of a musician with carved legs."

"Wanted—A room for two gentlemen about thirty feet long and twenty feet broad."

"Lost—A collie dog by a man on Saturday evening answering to Jim with a brass collar round his neck and muzzle."

"Wanted—By a respectable girl, her passage to New York; willing to take care of children and a good sailor."

"Mr. Brown, furrier, begs to announce that he will make up gowns, capes, etc., for ladies out of their own skins."

"Wanted—An organist and a boy to blow the same."

"Wanted—A boy to be partly outside and partly behind the counter."

"To be disposed of, a mail phaeton, the property of a gentleman with a movable headpiece as good as new."

THE REPUBLICANS.

Some Bitterness Shown But a Name Presented For Nearly Every Place.

The tension on the minds of the self-constituted managers of the Republican party, particularly those in Reno, for the past 48 hours, has been so great that a number of cases bordering on collapse seemed almost inevitable. Tuesday evening and all day Wednesday, those prominent in the councils of the party could be seen in groups of two or three with heads close together and their faces indicating the consideration of knotty problems in the political situation. As each incoming train arrived they were on hand and the arriving delegate was switched off into a quiet doorway or corner and a volley of pointers fired at him. As soon as his first interview ended he was again met with "let me see you a minute" and another buttonholing scene began and so it ran on. In the mean time the impromptu caucuses swelled from one or two individuals to groups of half dozen or more and finally on Wednesday night quite a large caucus of delegates met for the purpose of consultation. The candidates, of which there was a respectable representation, walked about looking confident and unconcerned or assuming an air of importance, would now and again be seen trying to do the steering for a manager.

At the general caucus on Wednesday evening the first exhibition of heat developed and the caustic remarks and personal reference of some of the delegates to others, soon made it apparent that everything was not as harmonious in the ranks of the G. O. P. as was believed by outside observers. Among the Reno push of the party there were strong factional differences, so much so that considerable bitterness was shown. The outside delegates discovered this and endeavored to keep out of the racket. Later arrivals on yesterday caused more caucusing and at 12 o'clock the hour for the convention to be called, the delegates were in caucus. The band played but were dismissed and the hour of meeting fixed at 1 o'clock.

At the appointed hour delegates assembled slowly and it was apparent that a wet blanket had been thrown over the anticipated enthusiasm. Rumors had it that the last caucus had caused several straight party men to withdraw from the party, it having decided by a vote of 37 to 30 to pass the nomination for Congress. This action picked up Dr. Patterson, who was a candidate for Congress, and threw him out the window. Finally ex-Governor R. K. Colcord as Chairman of the State Central Committee called the convention to order and the election of a Chairman was declared in order. It was decided to make the Chairman and other officers of the convention permanent.

Hon. O. B. Grey was then chosen Chairman and upon ascending the platform briefly addressed the convention.

W. A. Fogg was elected Secretary and H. W. Higgins Assistant Secretary.

E. C. Leadbetter was elected Sergeant-at-Arms.

The next order of business was the appointment of the various committees, viz, Credentials, Order of Business and Platform and Resolutions. A motion provided for the appointment of one delegate from each county on each committee. The scarcity of delegates from the eastern counties made it necessary to appoint the same delegate on all three committees.

An adjournment was taken for an hour in order to give the committees time to report. When the convention reconvened the Committee on Credentials reported and the report was adopted. Dr. Patterson was reported a delegate from Washoe county. He came forward and addressed the convention in substance as follows: He had always been a Republican and was at this time, but he could not participate in a convention that had so far lost its backbone as to pass a nomination in the interest of a candidate of an opposing party when it had men in its own ranks ready and willing to go on the ticket and make the best fight possible. As the convention seemed to be of the disposition to act in this way, he would bid it good day and act as a quiet Republican, endeavoring as far as possible to be true to the principles of his party.

This brief address from the Doctor was worse than a wet blanket on Republican enthusiasm, it was a shower bath, and as the Doctor walked out of the convention, the delegates sat quietly and made no sign of approval, but the crowd in the rear gave the Doctor the glad hand, and a hurrah in recognition of his firm stand.

After this blow, the convention adjourned till 7 o'clock p. m. in order that the delegates might be able to secure a little stimulant and thus regain their equilibrium.

EVENTING SESSION.

At 7 o'clock the band played several selections before the delegates reassembled, but the convention was called to order. The Committee on Order of Business reported that the order of nominations should be in the order of the several offices from Governor to District Judges omitting the nomination of a Congressman and making the selection of a State Central Committee before proceeding with the nominations. The report was adopted.

Next came the report of the Committee on Platform and Resolutions. Upon motion it was ordered that E. D. Vanderleith, secretary of the committee, be requested to read the report. Mr. Vanderleith came forward and in good style and voice and at times dramatic effect read the platform of which the following is a synopsis.

The platform announces the interest in which the Republican party enters upon the campaign and its devotion to the interests of all. Thanks the gallant sailors and soldiers who have periled their lives in defense of the country and in upholding the honor of the flag. To Dewey, Schley, Sampson, Wainwright and Hobson for brilliant victories at sea and to Miles, Shafter, Wheeler, Roosevelt and Lawton for victories on land. The fallen heroes are venerated and the disabled and sick returning soldiers are remembered and the Republican party pledges itself to the care of the widows and orphans of the men who died for their country's honor. That America has inscribed on her history a war in the cause of humanity is cause for congratulation and the people are congratulated on a successful termination of the war and President McKinley is commended in refusing to recognize the independence of the so-called Cuban republic. The policy of the Administration is approved. Industrialism and not militarism is approved and the development of domestic industry is recommended. The strength of the army and navy should be such as will maintain the honor and dignity of the Nation. Territorial expansion is approved in the interest of humanity. Free schools, a free church and equal rights are advocated and caste and oppression condemned. The annexation of the Sandwich Islands is commended and laws recommended protecting the labor interests of those islands. The free common schools are protected and poor children given the same consideration as the rich and that text books be furnished free to all pupils enrolled in the free schools of the state. The University is praised and recommendations are made to promote the resources of soil, water, minerals and climate by legislative enactment and otherwise to encourage the investment of capital and development of the State. The construction of the Nicaragua canal is urged and its exclusive control by the Government recommended.

The rights of women and their admission to wider spheres of usefulness is heartily approved and the submission of the question of woman suffrage to the people is urged. The party reiterates its faith in and devotion to the great principles of bi-metallic protection and reciprocity and is convinced that the final adjustment of the money question can only come through the Republican party. Uniformity of legislation between the states upon the subjects of marriage and divorce, extradition and the execution and acknowledgment of conveyances is of great importance. Home rule for the State of Nevada is unqualifiedly approved.

The management of affairs of the state administration in State institutions, viz Orphan's Home and Hospital for Mental Diseases is denounced and the Governor is censured for his open hostility to the University. The construction of storage reservoirs, artificial means of irrigation and the cultivation of land is urged and the best efforts of the party are pledged in this direction.

The platform and resolutions were adopted unanimously and nominations for Governor were declared in order. Geo. H. Territtin placed Wm. McMillan of Storey county in nomination and he was nominated by acclamation.

J. W. Ferguson of Churchill was nominated for Lieutenant Governor; F. J. Button of Humboldt county for State Treasurer; George H. Territtin of Washoe for State Controller; M. A. Murphy of Ormsby for Attorney General; Allen C. Bragg of Washoe for Surveyor General; Orvis Ring of Washoe for State Superintendent of Schools; Joseph Eckley of Storey for State Printer; R. K. Colcord of Ormsby for long term and James W. O'Brien of Washoe Regent for short term.

O. H. Grey of Carson was nominated for District Judge of the First Judicial District and the nominations for the remaining Judicial Districts were passed. Nominations for Congressman, Justice of the Supreme Court and Secretary of State were also passed.

A motion was carried instructing the State Central Committee to fill all vacancies on the ticket except Congressman. The committee will meet to-day. The convention then adjourned with three cheers for the party and ticket.

THE SHAW COMPANY'S BIG WELCOME LAST NIGHT.

Again has Fresno proved that Sam T. Shaw and his popular company are their popular favorites. When the curtain went up last night not a vacant seat was to be seen, and many persons were standing. Mr. Shaw has gathered around him this season the best company he ever brought to our city.

The play of "The Westerner" is a fine comedy drama, and gave ample scope for the company to show their ability. The Jim Errol of Mr. Shaw was a fine conception, and showed him to be an artist of true merit. His scene in the third act was carried with strong force, showing careful study and true dramatic art. We have always said that he was not only a good character actor, but was a thorough light comedian as well, and his work last night proved it. The Mr. and Mrs. Deane, of Mr. Herley and Nellie Maine Shaw kept the audience in a roar whenever they were on the stage. Mr. Hallett's rendition of the villain, Bussee, was excellent; also Mr. Gilbert and Mr. DeVaul as the Lawtons, father and son; Misses Marie Howe and DeVaul were both good.

A Serious Wreck.

Yesterday morning's east-bound train did not arrive here until 4:30 p. m. yesterday, the delay being occasioned by a wreck west of Penryn on the night before. The wreck was caused by three fruit cars heavily loaded with ice and fruit getting away at Newcastle and starting down grade. The operator tried to raise Penryn and Loomis, in the hope of side tracking the runaway cars, but these offices were closed for the night. He raised Rocklin, but passenger train No. 8 had just pulled out of that station and all that could be done was to await the crash which was inevitable. The runaways gained a speed of 70 miles an hour by the time they passed Penryn and when they struck the engines of train No. 3 the concussion was terrible. The crash occurred on a curve and the freights were thrown over on their sides and badly smashed. Had the collision occurred on a straight track the passenger train would probably have been derailed. As it was, however, the two engines were badly stove up and the mail car telescoped into the express a distance of eight or ten feet. Conductor McMasters was injured about the head, engineer Newton badly bruised and express messenger Willets suffered a sprained ankle. Mrs. Mary Allen of Auburn was the only passenger hurt and she not seriously. New engines were procured and the track cleared and train proceeded. Engineer Newton had an arm broken in a wreck at the same point about two years ago.

Lost Time.
"Time is precious," remarked the minister.
"It is indeed," replied the man of business, "and I've wasted lots of it."
"By indulging in foolish pleasures, I suppose?" said the good man.
"No," replied the other. "I lost it by being punctual in keeping my appointments with others." — Chicago News.
